New Broadway Church Lampposts. Two new lampposts have been installed at the entrance to the Broadway Congregational church through the generosity of a member of the church. Peck, McWilliams and company started the work of installing the new posts, which will replace the eid ones, they having outlived their mefulness. Monday. The new posts will be of fluted iron, larger and about a foot taller than the old ones. On the of each post there will be a 60 kw. Tangsten lamp, and over the bulb there will be a ground glass globe, 14 inches in diameter to correspond with those of the court house entrance. It is be-lieved that the walk will be better il-luminated by the new lights.

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexions

It is more important now than during the period of profuse perspiration to keep the pores clean. All cosmetics clog the pores. In winter this interferes greatly with elimination of waste material, injuring instead of aiding the complexion. Ordinary mercolized wax serves all the purposes of creams, powders and rouges, giving far better results. It actually peels off an offensive skin, at the same time unclogging the pores, Minute particles of scarf skin come off day by day, causing not the least pain or discomfort, Gradually the healthy, younger skin beneath peeps out, and in less than a fortnight you have a lovelier complexion than you

Asks for Later Trolley Cars. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Secretary Henry W. Tib-bits, and two new members, Dr. Hugh B. Campbell, superintendent of the state tuberculosis sanatorium, and C. James Isbister, were voted in. Frank J. King suggested that the transportation committee apply to Supt. Samuel Anderson of the Shore Line road for later cars on the New London line, and also on the Central Village line. He favored a car at 11.15 from both New London and Norwich, a 10.45 car to Central Village Wednesday nights and cars at 10.45 and 11.45 on Saturday nights. He especially emphasized the need on the Central Village line, where the last car at night leaves here at 9.45. It was an impossibility to care for the crowds on this car, he said. Another car later he believed would relieve congestion. The matter was referred to the transportation committee with instructions to take steps towards securing the extra cars suggested by Mr. King.

Likely to Have Better Street Signs. Arthur L. Peale reported on steps taken towards securing street signs about the city. He showed a sample enameled sign which he said could be secured for $30 a hundred. The few that are about the city, he said, are dilapidated, and bright, effective signs give a city an air of progress. Peale stated that according to Mayor Murphy the matter was already in the hands of the proper committee of the municipal government and that he expected that the signs would be se-

F. J. King Reports on Convention. Delegate Frank J. King was called upon for a report on the rivers and narbors convention at Washington, at which, he stated, there were 2,000 delegates. Mr. King said that he had noticed that there was no organized effort on the part of the Connecticut delegates and that he had finally called them together, with the result of the organization of the Connecticut Deep Waterways association. He said that Mayor Murphy had strongly presented Connecticut's claim for larger appropriations for the benefit of her waterways. The general feeling of the meeting was strongly in favor of state and municipal owned terminals and against any steamship or railroad company control of waterway routes of transportation. Mr. King's report was from a general breakkdown and was an excellent one and he was applauded at the close.

On Sale of Steamship Lines. Elmer C. Jewitt brought to the attention of the meeting the fact that the New Haven road would be forced to dispose of its steamship holdings and also that boards of trade in many sections had passed resolutions r questing that the road be allowed continue its present steamship line. The change, said Mr. Jewett, means an all rail route to New York, longer time in transportation and greater congestion at New York, where the congestion is already great. He believed, he said, that the Board of Trade should pass a resolution opposing the divorcing of these lines.

Resolution Presented. He presented the following resolution, which was referred to the trans-

Resolved, That the Norwich Board of Trade deprecates the application of the law relative to railroads owning vessels sailing in the coastwise trade insofar as it applies to boat lines that have for years been an integral part of rail lines and will in no wise be connected with traffic through the

We believe entirely unnecessary the divorcing of lines like the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad which is at present operating in this coastwise trade, many of its lines having been in use prior to their having rall connection with New York, and we believe further that such a separa tion will work to the serious disad-vantage of the shippers in general and the small one in particular, through inreased rates due to the separate ownership requiring two or more charges for each consignment, with much longer time in transit, will surely re-

The tuberculosis commission at its weekly meeting at Hartford on Monday heard a report of the inspection of the herd of cattle in West Hartford Hartford sanatorium with milk. The inspection was made on Sunday by Deputy Cattle Commissioner Ingram and Dr. Curry, a veterinarian, who were accompanied by Dr. Wagner, the superintendent of the sanatorium. The herd consisted of 17 milch cows. Two responded to the tuberculin test and one was condemned on physical examination. The two animals that reand the other animal was isolated in a barn and will be destroyed at once The examination was held in accordance with the agreement which Mr. Sherman has made with the commission, that he would have his herd exsponded to the test were quarantined amined before he began to furnish milk to the institution. The flesh of the animal that was condemned by the physical test will not be used for food It is expected that the new buildings at the Hartford institution will be ready for occupancy early in January. There will be accommodations for 200 patients. Each patient is furnished with about three pints of milk per day, and at this rate the institution will need 300 quarts daily. Excluded for Bad Habits. The selectmen of the town of Southington called on the commission to ask that a patient who had been discharged from the Meriden sanatorium and also rom the Hartford institution for refractory conduct and for getting drunk be taken into one of the institutions under the charge of the commission in the state. The expenditure of the million dollar general of the United States and our representatives and senators in congress, with the earnest request that they do all in their power to preve. such a separation and that our secretary be instructed to forward such copies to those named.

Ex-Congressman Higgins. Ex-Congressman Edwin W. Higgins was called upon by President James C Macpherson, and he spoke of the work of the rivers and harbors commission. The best work ever accomplished by this commission, according to Mr. Higgins, was the dissipating of the no-tion that "pork barrel" methods were used in the rivers and harbors appropriations and that the money spent did no real good. He said that millions had been sunk in the Mississippi with little good result, but that on the whole no money appropriated by congress was so honestly spent as the amount allotted to the betterment of the waterways of the nation. There is now an annual appropriation of 50 millions for this work. Mr. Higgins concluded by explaining the various parts of the rivers and harbors bill. He then in-troduced Mr. Chappell, who spoke on the New London ocean terminal pro-

Commissioner Chappell Speaks. Mr. Chappell stated that the waterways movement started in this state four years ago when the governor ap-pointed a commission of five of which the speaker was one, to work up sentiment in favor of improving the Connecticut river. That commission made a lengthy report after consideration of improvements elsewhere as applicable to local conditions. Mr. Chappell said that he felt that Connecticut should be the greatest manufacturing state in the union and that in a short time the the handsome new stone bridge across the Connecticut river would be torn into to put in a draw. Traffic along the Connecticut should at least go Springfield.

Great Industrial Basin. On the Thames we have, he said, a finer though smaller project than the Connecticut. With our terminal opened up we will have a great industrial basin here with 14 miles of waterfront. The country immediately in back of the terminal is going to profit by it sites along the river. Not Competing For Big European Lines. Some people have the impression that we are seeking the big passenger steamers but we expect the tramp steamers, the small emigrant steamers, the Russian and South American trade. We will not compete for the big European lines. The speaker told of the investigations of the committee into the arrangement of terminals in other cities and said that the $350,000 needed to perfect the New London channel would result in a better channel than Providence will have ,provided she can secure her appropriations of six millions. At New London what dredging is done will be permanent dredging cost of upkeep will be comparatively very small.

Get Overflow From New York. New York has more commerce than she can handle and will welcome a smaller terminal nearby to which to send her overflow. The trade is waiting for the dock and as soon as the terminal is completed the business will be here. The establishing of this terminal is awaking world-wide interest in shipping circles and from all the satisfactory presentation of these big ports we receive inquiries. Mr. parts. Chappell stated that he expected work would be started before January 1 and the contract would be completed in a year. He exhibited maps showing the an inquiry from a Hartford insurance plans of the committee. A bulkhead is to be built above the drawbridge and the land filled in giving 80 acres of room, half of which will be used for trackage while the other half can all the persons of that name who h be devoted to industrial concerns.

Channel 600 Feet Wide. The dock is to be 1000 feet long and 200 feet wide, the center being of solid stone and concrete. There will be room for erecting warehouses in the rear of the dock. The face of the pier will be of reinforced concrete and the superstructure will be of steel. Creosoted piles with cement caps will be used. The channel when completed will be about two and half miles ong, 600 feet wide and 35 feet deep. In concluding Mr. Chappell said that he felt that it was not only New London but the whole valley and county which was being developed. He was given a vote of thanks and at the close answered a number of questions for
